Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

20th January 2019

God of wonders, at Cana in Galilee you revealed your glory in Jesus Christ and summoned all humanity to life in him.

Show to your people gathered on this day your transforming power and give us a foretaste of the wine you keep for the age to come.

We make this prayer through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God for ever and ever.

THE WORD AHEAD – Next Sunday's Gospel

Read – The Gospel for Sunday 27th January (Luke 1: 1-4; 4: 14-21) Jesus Proclaims his Message

After spending a few minutes considering this Gospel, continue by reading Fr. Henry Wansborough's reflection.

+++++

Today's gospel passage starts the series of readings from Luke which will continue throughout the ordinary Sundays of the Year. It is composed of two separate passages: first it gives Luke's introduction to his gospel, in which he explains how and why he wrote it. Then, jumping over the preparatory stories of Jesus' infancy, baptism and testing in the desert, it comes directly to his programmatic manifesto in the synagogue at Nazareth. The gospel is offered to Theophilus – a Greek name – and is written for gentile communities. So Luke stresses that Jesus' message is not just for Jews but for the peoples of the whole world. Twice in the second passage (Jesus' manifesto in Nazareth) Luke stresses that Jesus is moved by the Spirit of the Lord. As we see in the second reading, the Spirit was obviously at work in the early Christian communities. This was no more than a continuation of the Spirit's activity from the very beginning of the Christian movement. In Luke's stories of the annunciation, birth and infancy of Jesus the presence of the Spirit is constantly noted. In the earliest stories of the Church in the Acts of the Apostles the same guidance by the Spirit directs every move.

Why did Jesus choose to read this passage from the scriptures?

Dom Henry Wansborough OSB
