POSTER IN THE PORCH

Did you know?... CAFOD believes in a world where no one is beyond reach of the love and care they need to thrive. In the last year, your support has moved us a step closer to that goal. Thanks to our supporters in England and Wales CAFOD has been able to reach hundreds of thousands of women, men and children in need of help. With your donations along with matched funding from the UK Government CAFOD has already been able to provide 217,693 people in Uganda, Democratic Republic of Congo and Zimbabwe with access to safe, sustainable water. We will reach 330,000 people by the end of the programme. Thank you for your support.

Family Fast day was 4th October - please return your donation envelopes

THE WORD AHEAD – Next Sunday’s Gospel

Read –The Gospel for Sunday 13th October (Luke 17: 11-19) The Samaritan Leper
After spending a few minutes considering this Gospel, continue by reading Fr. Henry Wansbrough’s reflection.

++++
We see why the story of the cure of Naaman the leper has been chosen as our first reading today: in the Gospel reading we find another cure of a foreigner, and not an ordinary foreigner, but a hated foreigner. There was a cordial hatred between Jews and Samaritans: for the Jews, the Samaritans were a wretched hybrid race, who accepted only part of the Jewish Bible, and had their own ideas about the coming Messiah. Yet Luke has already recounted the story of the Good Samaritan, who succours the wounded traveller who had been neglected by Jewish priest and Levite. Now only a Samaritan comes back to thank Jesus for the cure from leprosy. Samaritans are the foreigners geographically nearest to Jesus, but hated by the Jews. If the Samaritans can set an example to the Jews, so can many other foreigners. In his initial proclamation Jesus promises salvation to the gentiles, and Luke misses no opportunity to show us gentiles ripe for salvation: the centurion of Capernaum who built the synagogue and whose son is cured, the guests for the banquet called in from highways and byways. Luke is preparing for his second volume, the Acts of the Apostles, where the Good News will spread to the ends of the earth, even to Rome itself.

Christians believe that no race is superior to another. Why?

Dom Henry Wansbrough OSB
